MacDonald's writing has appeared in The Wall Street Journal, the Washington Post, The New York Times The New Republic, and other publications. Her work at City Journal and her three books have covered such topics as homeland security, immigration, policing and "racial" profiling, homelessness, educational policy, the New York courts, and business improvement districts. A non-practicing lawyer who clerked for Hon. Stephen Reinhardt, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, MacDonald has been an attorney-adviser in the Office of the General Counsel of the EPA, testified before congressional committees on the topics listed above, and was appointed to one of Mayor Rudolph Giuliani's task forces on education. She has received numerous honors for her work and is a frequent guest on FOX News, CNN, and other television and radio programs.

While she lives and works in NYC, MacDonald's Juris Doctor is from Stanford University (earned after her Masters in English from Cambridge). Come hear what this knowledgeable expert has to say about California's dilemma!
