MARK KRIKORIAN Center for Immigration Studies

Mark Krikorian is a nationally recognized expert on immigration issues, and has served as Executive Director of the Center for Immigration Studies (CIS) since 1995. The Center, an independent, non-partisan research organization in Washington, D.C., examines and critiques the impact of immigration on the United States. Animated by a vision which seeks fewer immigrants but a warmer welcome for those admitted, the Center was established in 1985 to respond to the need for reliable, fact-based research in the immigration area.

Congress, as well as the mainstream and new media seek Mr. Krikorian's knowledge and expertise. He frequently testifies before Congress and has published articles in numerous outlets including The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, The New York Times, and elsewhere. He has appeared on all major cable and broadcast news networks.

Mr. Krikorian is the author The New Case against Immigration, Both Legal and Illegal and How Obama is Transforming America through Immigration. His most recent publication is Open Immigration: Yea & Nay, co-authored with Alex Nowrasteh of the Cato Institute.
