Topic: 'State Finances & Why People Should Care Who the State Controller is'

Our speaker: Lanhee J. Chen, Ph.D.

is running for CA State Controller. He is the David and Diane Steffy Fellow in American Public Policy Studies at the Hoover Institution and Director of Domestic Policy Studies and Lecturer in the Public Policy Program at Stanford University. A veteran of several high-profile political campaigns, Chen has worked in politics, government, academia, and the private sector. Expertise: California » Health Care Policy » Law » Public Policy » Social Security » Tax Policy » U.S. Budget » U.S. Elections

He has advised numerous major campaigns, including four presidential efforts. Chen also advised Senator Marco Rubio's 2016 presidential bid, served as Domestic Policy Director of Romney's 2008 campaign, and was a health policy adviser to the Bush-Cheney reelection campaign in 2004. During the 2014 and 2018 campaign cycles, Chen served as a Senior Adviser on Policy to the National Republican Senatorial Committee (NRSC).

From 2014 to 2018, Chen served as a Presidentially Appointed and Senate-Confirmed member of the Social Security Advisory Board - an independent, bipartisan panel that advises the president, Congress, and the Commissioner of Social Security on matters related to the Social Security and Supplemental Security Income programs. He also served in the George W. Bush Administration as a senior official at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Chen's writings have appeared in The Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Washington Post, and Los Angeles Times. He has been a CNN Political Commentator & provided political analysis & commentary on every other major television network. Chen currently serves as a member of the Editorial Board of the Salem Media Group.

Chen earned his Ph.D. and A.M. in political science from Harvard University, his J.D. Cum Laude from Harvard Law School, and his A.B. Magna Cum Laude in government from Harvard College.
