Michaela Swaney, Legislative Analyst for (CFRW)
Be informed on what bills are on the November ballot

“Michaela Swaney is the Legislative Analyst for the California Federation of Republican Women (CFRW), where she advocates at the California State Capitol for principled state laws, fights against the influence of the state's super-majority, and provides critical analysis of legislation on a state and federal level.

With over 11 years as the owner of a business and legislation development company, Michaela has built a strong track record helping startups and established businesses navigate California's complex regulatory landscape. She has guided countless entrepreneurs in developing robust business plans, achieving growth, and successfully launching ventures. Her expertise extends to collaborating with numerous cities particularly in the Bay Area, where she spent eight years working extensively in Oakland on local policy matters. Witnessing the real-world impacts of progressive and socialist policies in action there fueled her determination to advocate more broadly for California and other communities, ensuring they avoid similar challenges.

Michaela remains a fierce advocate for preserving the American dream, protecting families, and boldly restoring our government to its original constitutional founding.”
