MEETING SPEAKERS

We are welcoming back some familiar faces as this month's speakers. Please come and support them as Election Day draws closer and earlier than ever.

JEFF GORMAN CANDIDATE FOR UNITED STATES CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT 20

Jeff began college at UC Berkeley majoring in chemistry and after observing the political climate there he soon switched to political science, feeling that America's political system was worth saving. Jeff is a licensed FINRA Stock Broker and Financial Planner and maintains an office in Monterey, Gorman Financial. He serves as Director/Treasurer of the Elizabeth Hook Armstrong Foundation that supports quality of life for severely disabled children. He is a member of Monterey Elks Lodge and serves on the Audit Committee. Jeff has been a volunteer with Monterey County Republican Party since 2010 and has recently been elected as Chair. He is working to restore the Republican Brand as a source of pride here on the Central Coast.

VICKI NOHRDEN CANDIDATE FOR CALIFORNIA SENATE DISTRICT 17

Vicki has more than 20 years of public service and leadership experience in Monterey County schools, non-profits and government service. Her public service includes the Monterey County Civil Grand Jury, a Court Appointed Special Advocate for Children (CASA) and family outreach for Monterey County Jail and Juvenile Justice System. Her platform includes Sustainable Housing Policies, Education Above Agendas and Opportunity For All. She is married to her best friend, Daniel Nohrden, retired Navel Officer and they have 3 children and 6 grandchildren.

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

"We don't intend to turn the Republican Party over to the traitors in the battle just ended. We will have no more of those candidates who are pledged to the same goals of our opposition and who seek our support. Turning the party over to the so-called moderates wouldn't make any sense at all." Ronald Reagan 1964

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This February is a long one. We have an “extra” day to hear about how this or that candidate is better than Trump. It may seem like a lost cause in this “nanny” state we call home, but we have some great candidates to support. Take the time to talk to your neighbors and friends about the truth of Republican ideas. The Monterey County Republican Party has endorsed Vickie Nohrden for Senate District 17 and Jeff Gorman for US Congress District 20. We look forward to hearing from them at this meeting. They will welcome any support we can give them. (Hum, can I burn enough calories walking a precinct to eat a Valentine’s Day chocolate heart?) We do have a long weekend this month. U. S. Presidents are honored on what started as a celebration of Washington’s Birthday and is now called Presidents Day. Here at the ranch we brand calves and have a big BBQ, honoring private property and capitalism, ideals Washington held in high regard.

WIFI FOR WARRIORS

“Our mission is to provide financial WiFi assistance to our deployed military personnel. We strive to help alleviate the financial burden of obtaining individual WiFi when our soldiers are deployed abroad.”

Depending upon location, a deployed soldier may be charged between $60 - $120 per month in order to have access to individual WiFi. Individual WiFi helps solders communicate with loved ones left at home and gives them access to movies and news of home. For more information or to support this important program go to <https://www.wififorwarriors.com/>.

AMERICANISM

Although Americans did not know it at the time, immigrants would soon prove critical to the country’s effort in World War I, both in military service and in industry. Despite their importance, America closed its borders in the years after the armistice, ending what had been the largest immigration flow in the country’s history.

View From The Edge Of The Crowd by Lee Schell

We, as active Republicans, need to get off of our duffs and start looking around for people who claim to be Republicans but for some reason don't find the time to vote. We generally show up at the polls more consistently than Democrats but they outnumber us. Republicans need to start trying to convince our apathetic colleagues to vote. We need to visit elderly, disabled or transportation challenged party members and offer to help them sign up for permanent absentee voting or offer rides to polling places on election day to bump up our numbers. We could also start talking to these so-called Independents--the "no party preference" crowd who seem to think that identifying as a Republican or Democrat somehow limits their voting options. Many of these "decline to state" voters are disgusted with both parties. We need to convince them that they are so much better off today than they were four years ago and it's because of President Trump and Republican efforts in Washington. If we can't get these folks into the party at least we might be able to convince them to vote Republican. Every little bit helps.

Writing this column at least two weeks in advance of it's publication, I take a chance that things will change.

RISKY OUTBREAKS

At deadline, the Senate was just getting started on the Trump impeachment trial. Assuming what was anticipated to be about a four to five week process is still ongoing, I have a few thoughts on this sad state of affairs:

IN NEW YORK:

IN TEXAS:

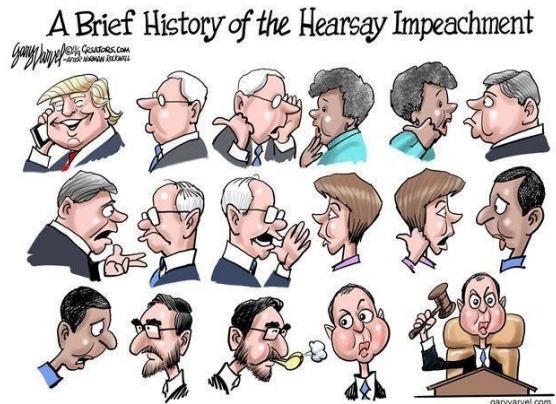

IN D.C.:

Just think how much better off president Trump would be today if he had kept silent rather than ask the new president of Ukraine to investigate Hunter Biden. The Mueller report had just concluded finding nothing that could be pinned on the president. The guy was off-the-hook! The first thing he does is make a phone call that puts him right back in the frying pan. The Democrats pick this up and run with it and here we are in the middle of an impeachment that has only happened twice before. The Dems know they can't get rid of Trump so why go to the trouble of an impeachment? It's all about disruption.

Nancy Pelosi may sometimes come off like a dingbat but she is no dummy. She knows exactly what she is doing. The articles of impeachment are drawn up with little, if any, Republican input. Then, instead of walking them right over to the Senate...Pelosi sits on them. Disruption, anger, confusion, frustration. You get the idea. While the impeachment sits in Limbo, Democrat operatives target Republican senators...RINOs if you please...putting pressure on them; giving them reason and opportunity to resist their party, to which they pay only "lip service" and to poke at a president they never have liked and only reluctantly support. Romney, Paul, Collins, Murkowski, Portman, Gardner could vote with the Democrats to cause delays and more confusion in the Senate impeachment trial. Pelosi's plan is to beat up Trump so badly that he will be vulnerable in November. The trouble is...the Democrats need a viable candidate and right now they are not convinced they have anyone who can beat Trump. Will all of this work for the Dems? I predict this whole thing will backfire and that a disgusted electorate will go to the polls in November and reelect Donald Trump in a landslide. Anybody want to join me on that bet?

BOOK to LOOK FOR From Goodreads.com

The Conservative Sensibility

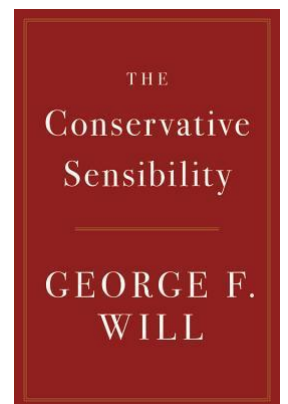

by George F. Will

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

From the Pulitzer Prize-winning columnist, an "astonishing" and "enthralling" (Booklist) new examination of how the Founders' belief in natural rights created a great American political tradition--"easily one of the best books on American Conservatism ever written" (Jonah Goldberg).

For more than four decades, George F. Will has attempted to discern the principles of the Western political tradition and apply them to America's civic life. Today, the stakes could hardly be higher. Vital questions about the nature of man, of rights, of equality, of majority rule are bubbling just beneath the surface of daily events in America.

LEGISLATIVE Capitol Update 1/21/2020 Allison Olson, CFRW Advocate

Dem Majority Priorities

The Legislative Democrats and Governor Gavin Newsom have made their bill and budget priorities clear this year; tackle homelessness, housing, and climate change. But their solution is to throw more money at each of these issues. With the current budget's surplus, Governor Newsom is proposing adding new state departments. At least 25 new government entities have been proposed, from the Department of Cannabis Control to the Office of Health Care Affordability. Governor Newsom has already expanded government, include the governor's office itself, increasing spending by 22 percent. The creation of these new government departments will cost the taxpayers upwards of $50 million to $100 million a year, when the budget is all said and done. Assemblyman Olberholte's (R, Big Bear Lake) office found in this year's budget proposal at least 25 new government entities- this includes departments, offices, programs, task forces, and divisions. Expanding state bureaucracies will only lead to more inefficiency, duplication of services, and when the state inevitably faces a recession, these new offices will be difficult to cut. The Governor and Legislative Democrats need to get their priorities- and how to pay for them- straight.

REGION 5 NEWS

Welcome to Region 5 some of California's most beautiful coastline; it rolls along the 101 freeway over 350 miles from Westlake Village to Santa Cruz encompassing six counties from Northern, to Central and Southern California. Our region moves inland to mountains and vineyards, from Ronald Reagan Country in Simi Valley, which is home to his Presidential Library, to Santa Barbara which is the site of Reagan's former ranch, Rancho Del Cielo. Every mile of Region 5 is truly worth the fight to keep her going in the RIGHT direction. Membership growth is our goal. By listening to and learning from members about what works in their clubs to retain members, we can help each other bring in new Republican women. Expanding is vital if we are to take back our Golden State. Far too many areas of California are not represented by our Federation and those are the areas that are our focus. We will work together under the direction of our new CFRW President Sue Blair. It takes passion and desire in each of us to achieve the success we want to take back our state. Region 5 RWF members contact me to join our exciting Facebook Group for leadership and fellowship, don't be left in the dark. WE ARE ONE! Nancy Wofford Region 5 Director

NEW LAWS 2020 EDITION Capitol Update Friday, January 10, 2020 Allison Olson, CFRW Advocate

When January 1st came and went, many new bills passed last session came into effect. Here are some important ones to know:

AB 5- A bill that stifles our gig economy, AB 5 requires previously employed independent contractors to be reassigned as employees of the company. Uber, Lyft, and DoorDash have already said they will work to overturn this bill through a ballot measure.

AB 51- This bill prohibits employers from forcing workers into mandatory arbitrary agreements.

AB 375- This is the California Consumer Privacy Act. You may have been reading about this in the news already. This expands your online privacy rights, giving you the right to decline the sale of your information from Google and Facebook, the right to know what data is being collected from you, and the right to delete your data.

AB 652- This bill protects your right to display religious decorations in your home or on your property. Landlords and homeowners associations cannot ask you to remove crosses, menorahs, etc, as long as they are 26 by 12 inches or less.

AB 1482- Statewide rent control is here, despite Californians voting this down last election. The law limits rent increases to 5% each year, plus inflation, and never above 10%. It also makes it much harder for landlords to evict tenants.

AB 1707- Voters can now take their smart phones into vote centers to cast a ballot as long as they do not violate any other election law.

SB 3- Another minimum wage hike for California. This raises our state's minimum wage to $12 an hour for companies with 25 employees or less and to $13 for larger companies.

SB 104- California is now the first state in the nation to offer free healthcare to illegal immigrants who are between the ages of 19-25. We already provided this to illegal immigrant children, this is an expansion of that program.

PROPOSITION HEADING OUR WAY

California Proposition 13, School and College Facilities Bond (March 2020)

Proposition 13 would authorize $15 billion in bonds for school and college facilities in California, including $9 billion for preschool and K-12 schools, $4 billion for universities, and $2 billion for community colleges.^[1] According to the California Legislative Analyst, the state would make payments totaling an estimated $26 billion, including $15 billion in principal and $11 billion in interest, over 35 years from the General Fund.^[2]

“Jon Coupal, president of the Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association, stated, "Currently, there are strict limits on how much bond debt local school districts are allowed to carry. But a hidden provision of Prop. 13 (2020) nearly doubles the limits school districts can borrow. This means huge increases in property taxes are a near certainty. Who pays property taxes? We all do, either directly in property tax bills or through higher rents and other costs. Unlike the Prop. 13 from 1978, this Prop. 13 puts all taxpayers at risk of higher taxes." [9]”

I AM A REPUBLICAN BECAUSE...

I believe that the proper function of government is to do for the people those things that have to be done but cannot be done, or cannot be done as well by individuals, and that the most effective government is government closest to the people.

I believe that good government is based on the individual and that each person’s ability, dignity, freedom and responsibility must be honored and recognized.

I believe that free enterprise and the encouragement of individual initiative and incentive have given this nation an economic system second to none.

I believe that sound money policy should be our goal.

I believe in equal rights, equal justice and equal opportunity for all, regardless of race, creed, age, sex or national origin. And that persons with disabilities should be afforded equal rights, equal justice and equal opportunity as well.

I believe we must retain those principles worth retaining, yet always be receptive to new ideas with an outlook broad enough to accommodate thoughtful change and varying points of view.

I believe that Americans value and should preserve their feeling of national strength and pride, and at the same time share with people everywhere a desire for peace and freedom and the extension of human rights throughout the world.

Finally, I believe that the Republican Party is the best vehicle for translating these ideals into positive and successful principles of government. Source unknown

February gets its name from the ancient Roman festival of fertility and purification called "Februa." The festival of "Februa" emphasized atonement and the need for purification to bring about good fortune and fertility.

In the United States it is Black History Month and American Heart Month.
